

There's a lot to like about Pacific Wilderness, the diving superstore, and now when you share how much you like them on Facebook, California Ships to Reefs gets a five dollar donation.

It's a great way to start the new year. You can support the mission of CSTR to create rich new marine life through artificial reefing with just a click of your mouse. Visit Pacific Wilderness on Facebook and click "like." During the months of January and February, Pacific Wilderness will donate $5 in equipment or services to support CSTR for every "like," up to a limit of $2,000. And while you're doing this, remember to "like" California Ships to Reefs as well. Let your Facebook friends know about your commitment to enhancing marine life.

"We hope our supporters will spread the word, so that we can receive the maximum $2,000 donation from Pacific Wilderness," said Joel Geldin, Chairman and CEO of CSTR. Our all-volunteer organization has created so many important advances for CSTR these last few years. We know we can count on them to make this happen too.

"We appreciate Pacific Wilderness generously partnering with us to move our mission forward," Geldin added. "It's a natural fit. Artificial reefing creates exciting and popular new diving opportunities, which Pacific Wilderness's customers can enjoy."

Pacific Wilderness has two locations, in San Pedro and Orange, and has an online store at <http://www.pacificwilderness.com>.
